Engineer Bradford had a close call

Yulee when one of the side rods broke Chas. Carroll has been placed in charge of the Development company's business in this city. Mr. Carroll's appointment was a wise one on the part of the company, as his energy and thorough business ability peculiarly fits him for the position. He has for some time been manager of the Town Improvement company's interest, and his recent appointment is a fitting recognition of One of the events of the season was the year card party given by the Ladies' Whist club at the residence of H. E. Motter last Tuesday evening.

The ladies prize, a pretty manure set, was won by Miss Emma Williams, and Herbert Williams was the gentleman's prize—a cigar case. Delicious refreshments were served and the evening was most enjoyably spent. Those present were: Misses Clara Davies, Nellie Gay, Kala Williams, Eva Fairbanks, Lizzie Jeffreys, Mary Motter, Bessie Swann, Emma Williams, Cora Jeffreys, Lucy Thompson and Fannie Williams. Messames Burchard, A. T. Williams, Hillier and Galphin. Messrs. Herbert Williams, Dotterer, Burchard, Daltzell, T.
C. Borden, Nicholl, Galphin, Carroll, E.
R. Williams, Mallard, Bridler, Scott Thompson and Sherman Hillier.

The "Poverty Social" at the residence of Mrs. J. M. Boone last evening was one of the greatest successes in every particular of anything held in recent years. A large crowd attended, and much merriment was occasioned by the assessment and collection of fines imposed for the various offenses published in our last issue. One of the young men who attended has been for years cultivating a mustache and has gotten it to that point where it leaves a doubt in the minds of those who see it as to whether it is a sickly streak of hair or soot, and Mr. Wolff, who assessed the fines, was unable to decide whether this particular young man could be punished for having a mustache. The ladies in the ladies of the party and after due deliberation it was decided that the young fellow should be mulcted for making such a feeble effort, and this was done. Other things equally amusing made the affair one round of laughter, as well as a financial success. Mrs. Bossinger and Miss Ridenhour attended, accompanied by Mr. Burnett, dressed in ludicrous costumes, but even this did not save them a fine, as the energetic assessor found a way of collecting fines from them. Vocal and instrumental music of a high order also enlivened the evening.

OYSTER SUPPER.

The Ladies to Serve the Dishes in all styles this evening.

The ladies of Fernandina are determined that the fire ladders of their city shall not want for the cash necessary to make their trip to Key West enjoyable, and as a means of supplementing the council's appropriation will serve oysters in the Stark building this evening.

The choicest bivalves obtainable are what those who attend the supper will be served, and this fact, outside of the other considerations, should induce the public spirited people of Fernandina to dismiss their cooks for this one meal and get their suppers at the Stark building.

An Old Soldier's Recollections.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteer Company G.
During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea. Since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief it would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results followed. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my comrades, who while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease. As I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Harding, Halsey, Ore. For sale by J. Geo. Sunner.

THE CITY MOURNS

THE DEATH OF WILLIAM REDMOND KELLY.

In the Prime of Life, he is Gathered to His Father's Fold.

A gloom was cast over the entire city at 11 o'clock yesterday, when it was announced that William Redmond Kelly had breathed his last. Only a few moments before the end came he was thought to be improving, but what was taken as a favorable sign was but an omen of the sorrow that was so soon to touch the heart of our people.

About a week ago he was stricken with a chill, with which he had been suffering some time, and although he was confined to his bed nothing serious was thought to be the matter with him.
The day following he grew worse and continued to do so up to last Saturday, when he was supposed to be improving.
At three o'clock yesterday morning he had a sinking spell, from which, however, he rallied, but at 11 o'clock he had a second spell, and from this he never recovered and passed quietly to rest.

The funeral took place at 11 o'clock this morning, and the sorrowful procession which followed the remains to St.
Michael's Catholic church, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev.
Bishop Moore, was the largest ever seen in this city.

The pall-bearers were A. T. Williams, T. A. Gause, A. P. Murphy, F. W. Hoyt, N. B. Borden and H. W. King; and the remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground in Old Town cemetery.

The deceased was just in the prime of life, being only in the 31st year of his age. He was born in Alachua county.
Mr. Kelly was a man of wonderful energy and business ability. Early in life his ability showed itself and he was placed in charge of a large mercantile establishment conducted by his father at Callahan. On the elder gentleman's retirement, the youth was made assistant railroad agent at that place, but was soon promoted and given the railroad agencies at Starke and Hawthorn. He held this position several years, resigning it to come to Fernandina. He was appointed postmaster at this place, but resigned the position after two years' service to engage in the grocery business.

He was elected a member of city council three successive terms, one of which he served as president of the board. He was the first president of the Fernandina Western railroad, and was vice-president of the company at the time of his death. He was the head of the large wholesale and retail firm of Kelly & Bro., and in everything that tended to the upbuilding of Fernandina he was foremost.

In 1892 Mr. Kelly was married to Miss Grace Leddy, and as a result of that union he leaves two sons.

The body lay in state in the Florida house parlor yesterday and this morning, where it was viewed by hundreds of our people, who called to pay their last tribute of respect to him whom they had known from boyhood and who had won their respect and esteem by his many noble traits of character.

In his death Fernandina loses one of its best and most energetic and enterprising citizens—one whose cheerful face will be sadly missed by his friends, and whose demise will be felt by the entire city.

The floral offerings by friends were profuse and attested the esteem in which the deceased was held.

The stores of the city were closed from 11 to 12 o'clock this morning out of respect to his memory, and Fernandina has all day worn a Sunday aspect, business being almost entirely suspended.

To the heart-broken widow, the aged father and the devoted family The News extends its sincerest sympathy.

A Queer Yuletide.

One of the strangest yuletides in the world is away down at Terra del Fuego, in the toe end of the big shoe, which is what the map of South America looks like. The "office" is a big barrel, and it is fastened to a rock overlooking the straits of Magellan. Every ship that rounds Cape Horn stops at this odd postoffice. A boat puts out to the shore with letters to be left, and the sailor who takes them looks over those already in the barrel, taking out and bringing away with him any that his ship can forward to their destination. Then he fastens the cover on the barrel with its hook and staple, and the queer old postoffice that needs no postmaster or mailbags is left to itself until the next ship comes by.—New York Times.

A Strange Performance.

The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier has the following to say of the celebrated spiritual medium who will be at the Lyceum Hall next Monday night:
"Whatever the incredulous may say about the reality of the spiritual manifestations at Mr. Miller's seance in this city, no one who was present will deny that he had one of the largest and most interested audiences of the season. The tests were all marvelous. Messages were written on a slate by an invisible agency, the slate being constantly in the full view of the audience. Several pages of a book held by two ladies in the hall, and opened at random, were read by the medium on the stage. The seance closed with the suspension of a good-sized table in the air by the operator, by means of his hands, placed firmly on the top surface. We have never seen this feat performed before, and in our opinion it was genuine. It is a mysterious affair, for mechanical means are out of the question, and the inquiry is an interesting one, How is it done? It seems to us to be subject matter for the investigation of science—not for a religious craze.
And the man who will thoroughly analyze and explain the phenomena will deserve the thanks of the community." Everybody invited. No reserved seats.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations." Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr.
King's New Discovery." Try this ideal cough remedy now. Trial bottles free
